Disqualification case vs Gil up at Comelec

2 birth dates, 2 birth places

By Reynold S. Reyes

PHILIPPINE COMMISSION ON ELECTRONIC MEDIA (PCEM) has filed a petition with the Commission on Elections (Comelec) to disqualify Senator Gil from running for re-election in the 2010 national elections. The petition is based on the fact that Gil has two different birth dates and two different birth places, which is a violation of the Philippine Constitution.

The petition was filed by the PCEM, which is a government agency that monitors the media and ensures that it is used in a fair and equitable manner. The petition states that Gil's birth date is listed as January 1, 1950 in his passport, but as January 2, 1950 in his driver's license. Additionally, his birth place is listed as Manila in his passport, but as Quezon City in his driver's license.

The petition also states that Gil's name is listed as "Gil" in his passport, but as "Garcia" in his driver's license. This is a violation of the Philippine Constitution, which requires that all citizens have a unique name.

The petition is being filed at the same time as the filing of the 2010 national elections. This is because the petition is based on the fact that Gil's birth date and birth place are listed differently in his passport and driver's license, which are both required for registration in the 2010 national elections.

Erap's jail guards axed

MANILA (AP) — President Fidel V. Ramos has ordered the removal of all police officers and guards from the jail where Ferdinand E. Marcos is being held, a move that would leave the 91-year-old former president in the custody of the military.

Ramos said in a statement that the decision was made to ensure the safety of the president and to prevent any potential threats to his life. He also mentioned that the move was part of a broader effort to streamline the security of the president.

The statement came after reports that some of the guards at the jail were involved in a recent incident. Ramos emphasized that the military would take full responsibility for the president's security from now on.

The president's move was seen as a significant shift in the handling of the former dictator. It was also a response to the growing public concern over the safety of the president, especially after the recent assassination attempt on him.

Some critics, however, argued that the move might lead to a lack of accountability if the military were to take over the duties of the police. They also pointed out that the military has a long history of human rights abuses in the Philippines.

Despite the controversy, Ramos's decision was widely expected. It was seen as a necessary step to ensure the president's safety and to maintain the integrity of the justice system.

The president's move was also seen as a way to prevent any potential threats to his life. It was a clear message that the government was taking the security of the president seriously.

Supplements and drugs don't always mix

Interacting with each other, some drugs and supplements can cause problems. For example, taking a blood thinner with a supplement that contains vitamin E can increase the risk of bleeding.

The same is true for people taking insulin. Some supplements, like chromium, can interfere with the action of insulin, making it harder to control blood sugar levels.

Why some prayers are answered

MOST people who pray for personal and family protection and health, prosperity, happiness and success, also pray for their loved ones.

Through their prayers, people are able to express their love and concern for the people they care about and to receive their own needs.

Many people who pray for their loved ones also pray for their own needs. This is because they know that their loved ones are also praying for them.

It is important to remember that prayer is a two-way street. When you pray for someone else, you are also praying for yourself.
